-Desktop/Laptops on the move, are protected from websites pushing malware, phishing sites, proxies, spyware and adware, botnets, and SPAM.

-90% of Attacks come from Malicious Websites. Without this level of protection, it's all too easy for users to stray onto websites, which might appear safe, but can actually deliver a malicious payload to their computer. Besides the time and cost of cleaning up viruses and the loss of productivity from malware slowing down systems, there are bigger risks to consider.
